

The most decorated sit on nine times as many paths as the undecorated

Mean betweenness in the co-membership giant component, by how many honours the notice records. It runs from 0.0047 among the undecorated to 0.0394 among those with four or more — a factor of 8 — but not step by step: the 69 people with 3 honours sit below the 109 with 2, and with bands this small one hub moves a column. Read it as association and nothing more: fig. 34 shows honours accumulate with time served, and a man thirty years into a career has had thirty years to join things too. Both columns may simply be counting seniority.
