

Five Europeans recorded for every Tunisian

Community coded from institutional, educational and birthplace evidence in each entry (677 European, 136 Tunisian, 520 not classifiable of 1333) — a ratio of 5.0 to one among those it settles. Nobody is classified from a surname, and the 520 unclassified are not neutral: a Tunis birth with no communal marker is the commonest reason, and it withholds more Tunisians than Europeans.
