

A secondary certificate, not a doctorate, is what this elite carries

Qualifications named in the ETUDES rubric: 674 of the 1,159 institution mentions state one. The baccalauréat alone accounts for 329, more than every doctorate and the agrégation together (116). The law degrees are the one professional credential recorded in bulk, which fits an elite of officials, magistrates and notaries.

